Maryland's Campus Recreation Center Natatorium was featured as one of the nation's top collegiate facilities in Aquatics International.

Maryland runs a great Learn To Swim Program with its teams. The Terps take time to teach young swimmers.

Jim Wenhold

Head Coach
12th Season
at Maryland
Maryland '85

Jim Wenhold is in his 12th season as the head coach of both the men's and women's swimming teams at the University of Maryland. Under Wenhold's direction, for more than a decade, both Terrapin teams have climbed up the ranks of the ACC.

The all-time winningest women's coach in school history, Wenhold has transformed the Terps into one of the nation's top programs.

The women finished the season ranked 14th in the CSCAA (College Swimming Coaches Association of America) national poll, the highest in program history, and completed a perfect 11-0 season, including 6-0 in the ACC, for the Terps' first-ever regular-season conference title.

Last season, the Terrapin women, who finished fourth in the ACC Championships, qualified four swimmers for the NCAA Championships: Gigi deToll, Megan Knepper, Elizabeth Lavell and Marina Mulyayeva. The four women received Honorable Mention All-America honors for their 13th- and 14th-place finishes in the 200- and 400-meter medley relays, respectively.

Under Wenhold's leadership, several Terrapin athletes have flourished in the postseason. DeToll became the first freshman to win an ACC title under Wenhold when she won the 100-yard butterfly at the conference championship last season. In addition, Mulyayeva, Lavell, Knepper, deToll, Sasha Malanina and Jenny Brian earned All-ACC honors.

The men's team, meanwhile, has compiled a 64-57 record since Wenhold took over the program. Mark Hill and Chris Brandenberger both earned All-ACC honors last season, and the team broke several school records.

Wenhold graduated magna cum laude from Maryland in 1985 with a degree in physical education. He was the captain of the swim team his junior and senior years and held school records in the 100- and 200-yard backstroke as well as the 100-yard freestyle.

In 1987, Wenhold received his master's degree in sports management from Maryland. During that time he was a student assistant coach for the Terps in the sprint events.

One year later, Wenhold became a full-time faculty member in the department of kinesiology. While teaching at Maryland, he coached the Retriever Aquatic Club from 1988-91. In 1991, Wenhold returned to coaching the sprinters at Maryland. In 1993, he was elevated to head coach.

Wenhold is married to former Maryland swimming standout Amy Dilweg. The couple has two children, Jaimy (5 years old) and Amanda (2 years old).

Erika Hansen

Assistant Coach
First Season at Maryland
Texas '93

Erika Hansen joins the University of Maryland swimming team as an assistant coach for the 2004-2005 season.

Hansen comes to Maryland after serving as an assistant coach at the University of Southern California since 1997. Prior to her time at USC, she coached at the Jordan, Jager and Evans Gold Medal Swim Clinics and served as a graduate assistant coach at the University of Florida from 1994-96.

A U.S. Olympic Team member in 1988 and 1992 and a member of the U.S. National Team, Hansen was a five-time National Champion in 1984, 1985, 1990 and 1991.

As a collegiate swimmer at the University of Texas, Hansen won two NCAA Championships and earned the Longhorns' Most Improved Swimmer Award in 1992. She was a Barbara Jordan Scholarship Award Recipient in 1992 and the Southwestern Conference's Most Valuable Swimmer in 1991.

Mike Tober

Diving Coach
Second Season at Maryland
NC State '78

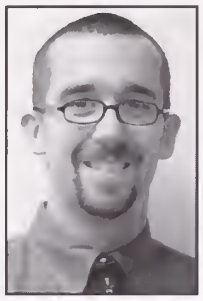
Mike Tober is in his second season as diving coach for both the men's and women's teams at Maryland. Tober returned to College Park last season after a 10-year hiatus; he coached the Terrapin divers from 1982-93. During that time, he was also the head coach of the Montgomery Dive Club.

Tober joined the University of Miami in1993, and served as assistant diving coach there for three years. He most recently served as the diving coach for four years at Indian River Community College in Ft. Pierce, Fla.

Tober was a USA National Team Coach in 1995-96 and PDCA All-America Coach from 1990-92. He was named NJCAA Diving Coach of the Year in 1999-00 while at Indian River.

A diver at NC State, Tober was a five-time ACC champion, an NCAA All-American and a member of the USA National Dive Team. He also was a gold-medalist on the 3-meter and 10-meter platform at the Maccabiah Games.

Tober graduated from NC State in 1978 with a degree in communications.



Mark Sowa

Assistant Coach
First Season at Maryland
American '98

Mark Sowa joins the Terrapins after spending the last three seasons as the assistant women's swimming coach at the University of Richmond.

At Richmond, Sowa helped rebuild the Spiders swim team into a nationally competitive program, leading them to three consecutive Atlantic Ten Championships - the first three in school history - and a 32nd-place finish at the 2004 NCAA Championships. He also served as the director of the University of Richmond Spider Swim Camp.

Before Richmond, Sowa served as the senior assistant swimming coach at Brown University. He has coached three Olympians and two Olympic trial finalists.

Sowa also has served as an age group coach for NOVA of Virginia Aquatics and as the head coach for the Highland Hurricanes summer team since 2002, and he was the age group and senior group assistant coach for the Ocean State Squid from 1998-2001.

As a collegiate swimmer at American University, Sowa was a member of the Colonial Athletic Association All-Academic Team during his three-year career.

Sowa graduated from American University in 1998 with a degree in history and philosophy, and he received his masters in American history from Brown University in 1999.

Mark Hill

Student Assistant Coach

Mark Hill begins his first season as a student assistant coach for the Terps after completing two very successful seasons as a varsity letterwinner.

The Terps' top sprinter after transferring from Arizona State University before his junior year, Hill holds Maryland school records in the 50- and 100-yard freestyle, as well as the 200-free relay.

Hill, who served as a team co-captain as a senior, earned All-ACC honors in both of his years at Maryland, including a second-place finish in the 50-free in 2004. He also participated in the 2004 U.S. Olympic Trials in Long Beach, Calif.

2004-05 Women's Season Preview

Elizabeth Lavell

The Maryland women's swimming and diving team did not lose a meet last season, posting a perfect 11-0 overall record, including 6-0 in the ACC, en route to the squad's highest-ever national ranking at 14. Seven school records fell, six swimmers earned All-ACC honors and four were Honorable Mention All-America.

Yet head coach Jim Wenhold still thinks the 2004-05 team can do better.

"We have a great returning class and we have a great incoming class, so based upon that, if we can keep everybody healthy and we swim to our potential, we should be able to have the best year ever," Wenhold said.

For example, last year's ACC Championships were a bit of a disappointment to the whole team. Despite mowing down their conference opponents in the dual meets and finishing first during the regular season, the Terps only placed fourth at the championship meet in February. However, Maryland suffered a setback when junior sprinter Cynthia Weir, who had been named ACC Swimmer of the Week just three weeks earlier, broke her hand a week before the meet and was not swimming at 100 percent. The Terps received another blow when their 200-yard freestyle relay team – which had won the event— was disqualified by .01 seconds.

The Terps did not lose many swimmers from last year's undefeated team, and Wenhold has called the incoming class Maryland's "best ever." Several of the freshmen, including Meghan Sackett, Kirsten Jones and Stacie Lesneski swam at the U.S. Olympic Trials in July, competing for a spot on the U.S. Olympic team. Another freshman, Maya Finkler, is a three-time Israeli national champion.

"We lost some good swimmers, but when you look at it in terms of points scored, we really lost very little from our championship team last year, and we gained a lot," Wenhold said. "So on paper, it should be a very successful year."

Wenhold expects his four NCAA Championship qualifiers – seniors Megan Knepper, Elizabeth Lavell and Marina Mulyayeva and sophomore Gigi deToll – to lead the team in the pool. The four were responsible for all five individual school records that fell last season and had a part in the two relay records, as well. All four earned All-ACC and Honorable Mention All-America honors, and deToll became the first freshman to win an individual ACC title under Wenhold when she took the crown in the 100-yard butterfly.

Both Lavell and Knepper were named ACC Swimmers of the Week, and Lavell was also NCAA Co-Swimmer of the Week. Knepper, Lavell and deToll competed in the U.S. Olympic Trials this summer, while Mulyayeva participated in the Olympics for her native Kazakhstan.

Wenhold also looks for juniors Krisztina Kovacs and Inbal Levavi, both of whom qualified for the NCAA Championships as freshmen but missed the cut last year, to return to the national meet. In addition, sophomore Sasha Malanina joined the team in January and earned All-ACC honors after only a month and a half in the conference. Wenhold expects her to be a threat for ACC titles as well as NCAA honors this year.

"We've only seen a minor flash of what Sasha is capable of," Wenhold said.

The 2004-05 schedule is a bit different than it has been in the past. Wenhold combined the teams from several of last year's dual meets into one meet to take place over two days in order to restrict the number of weekends his team has to travel. This situation occurs once in the fall when the Terps travel to Atlanta to take on three ACC opponents in Georgia Tech, Florida State and newest conference member Virginia Tech, and then again in the winter when the Terps host ACC rival NC State as well as non-conference foes Pittsburgh and Villanova.

"I think training-wise and focus-wise, it's really going to be a great situation for this team," Wenhold said. "I'm really pleased with the way our schedule has turned out this year."

The regular season begins Oct. 22 when the Terps host Johns Hopkins and Howard. The ACC Championships are Feb. 16-19, in Atlanta, with the NCAA meet a month later, March 17-19, in West Lafayette, Ind.

2003-04 Season Review

The Maryland women's swimming and diving team concluded the most successful season in school history, finishing the year ranked No. 14 in the country, the program's highest ranking ever. The Terps went 11-0 overall, including 6-0 in ACC dual meets, for the team's first-ever undefeated season.

Seven school records fell during the 2003-04 season, including two at the Terrapin Cup Invitational in November and four at the ACC Championship in February.

The Terps started the season strong and never looked back. They beat ACC foe NC State 138-97, then broke five pool records at Virginia Tech's War Memorial Pool while defeating both the Hokies (151-96) and the Clemson Tigers (136-107). After easily handling Johns Hopkins (156-66) and Howard (159-49) in the first home meet of the season, the Terrapins took care of two more ACC opponents, Duke (147-85) and Georgia Tech (147-94).

The Terps took a 7-0 record into the three-day Terrapin Cup and finished first in the 10-team field. Junior Elizabeth Lavell broke her own school record in the 400-yard individual medley (4:15.43) and swam NCAA automatic qualifying times in the 400 IM and the 1,650-yard freestyle (16:22.07). She won both events, as well as the 500-yard freestyle, and she was part of the winning 800-yard freestyle relay. Lavell was named ACC and National Co-Swimmer of the Week for her achievements.

Junior Megan Knepper also set school records at the Terrapin Cup, breaking her own mark in the 100-yard backstroke (54.84) while swimming the first leg of the 400-yard medley relay, then breaking teammate Inbal Levavi's 200-yard backstroke record in the preliminaries of the event the next day (1:59.49).

After a two-month break from competition, in which several Terps competed at the U.S. Open in Federal Way, Wash., and the entire team trained at the Olympic Training Center in Colorado Springs, Colo., the Terrapins tallied two non-conference victories over Pittsburgh (233-114) and Villanova (247-104).

The Terps then returned home with a 9-0 record for their final two dual meets of the year against the two greatest challenges to their perfect season.

ACC powerhouse North Carolina was first up. The two teams were tied for the ACC lead with four wins apiece, and the Terps had only defeated the Tar Heels once before in school history. But this meet belonged to Maryland, as the No. 19 Terrapins upset the 15th-ranked Heels 173-127. Knepper, Lavell and junior Cynthia Weir led the Terps with two individual victories apiece. Weir was named ACC Swimmer of the Week for her performance, as she was also on both winning relay teams.

Reigning ACC champion Virginia was the only remaining obstacle in Maryland's path to perfection, but the Terps won nine of 13 events en route to a 137-106 victory. The sprinters led the way, claiming the top three spots in both the 50- and 100-yard freestyle. Knepper broke the 200-back record she set earlier in the season with an NCAA automatic qualifying time, and she led off both winning relays. Her performance earned her ACC Swimmer of the Week honors.

"I'm really proud of the way the women rose up emotionally during the last two dual meets," head coach Jim Wenhold said. "They were the biggest meets of the season. Going undefeated is something that we've never done before."

With the regular-season conference title under their belts, the Terps went into the ACC Championships in Charlottesville, Va., looking to take home the official conference crown. But several misfortunes befell the Terrapins, who finished fourth at the four-day meet with 506 points.

Still, several school records fell at the Aquatic and Fitness Center. On the first night of competition, Lavell, Levavi, Knepper and freshman Sasha Malanina broke the 800-yard freestyle relay mark (7:17.92) and placed second, while Knepper, junior Krisztina Kovacs, freshman Gigi deToll and Weir set a new 200-yard medley relay mark (1:41.41), placing third.

The next night, junior Marina Mulyayeva broke the school's 200-yard individual medley record (2:01.01) while finishing second. A night later, deToll became the first Maryland freshman to claim an individual ACC title under Wenhold when she won the 100-yard butterfly, setting another school record (53.66).

Six Terps garnered All-ACC honors for their top-three finishes at the meet: senior Jenny Brian (50 free), deToll (100 fly), Knepper (100 back), Lavell (400 IM, 1650 free), Malanina (400 IM) and Mulyayeva (200 IM).

"I'm really proud of this team," Wenhold said. "Even with those things happening, the women continued to fight and everybody learned a lot."

Four Terrapins qualified for the NCAA Championships in College Station, Texas, and Maryland tied for 29th with 14 points. Knepper, Lavell, deToll and Mulyayeva all earned Honorable Mention All-America honors for their 13th-place finish in the 200-meter medley relay and their 14th-place finish in the 400-meter medley relay.

2004-05 Men's Season Preview

Chris Brandenberger

The Maryland men's swimming and diving team hopes to improve on last year's 4-8 record and seventh-place finish at the ACC Championships.

The Terps have strengthened some of their weaker spots from last year's team, including the 200-yard butterfly, where freshman Matin Ott will help out. "He's going to need to prove himself, but coming in, he's got some statistics that are really impressive, and we look for some real good things from him in the fly and IM events," head coach Jim Wenhold said.

But the Terps have large shoes to fill in the sprint freestyle events, as Mark Hill exhausted his eligibility. Though he will stay on as a student assistant coach, the Terrapins will need someone to step up and compensate for the loss of the All-ACC swimmer who owns three school records.

Wenhold hopes sophomore Kevin Ford is ready for that task. Ford was part of the school record-setting 200-yard freestyle relay team last year, and he finished in the top 15 in two events at the ACC Championships.

"Kevin made some huge improvements and developed a lot last year," Wenhold said. "He's heads and tails above where he was last year at this point."

Wenhold looks for senior Mike Fried to take some of the load off Ford. One of the top three returning point scorers from last year's team, Fried finished in the top 20 in three events at the ACC Championships and was on the record-setting 200-free relay.

"Mike's always been a good scorer in the sprint events and he's been a great guy on relays, and I look for him to continue that," Wenhold said.

Other returning swimmers include seniors Chris Brandenberger and Erik Weinberg. Brandenberger earned All-ACC honors for his third-place finish in the 200-yard backstroke, and he finished in the top 15 in two other individual events. Weinberg finalled in both backstroke events, just missing the All-ACC team when he finished fourth in the 200-back.

"We're going to look for them to contend for conference titles in the backstroke events," Wenhold said.

Senior Brad Schertle also returns for his second year as team co-captain and top distance freestyler. "He's just been a great leader for us, not only in the pool but out of the pool but outside of the pool," Wenhold said.

The 2004-05 schedule is a bit different than it has been in the past. Wenhold combined the teams from several of last year's dual meets into one meet to take place over two days in order to restrict the number of weekends his team has to travel. This situation occurs once in the fall when the Terps travel to Atlanta to take on three ACC opponents in Georgia Tech, Florida State and newest conference member Virginia Tech, and then again in the winter when the Terps host ACC rival N.C. State as well as non-conference foes Pittsburgh and Villanova.

"I think training-wise and focus-wise, it's really going to be a great situation for this team," Wenhold said. "I'm really pleased with the way our schedule has turned out this year."

The regular season begins Oct. 22 when the Terps host Johns Hopkins and Howard. The ACC Championships are Feb. 23-26 in Atlanta, with the NCAA meet a month later, March 24-26, in Minneapolis, Minn.

2003-04 Season Review

The Maryland men's swimming and diving team finished the season with four victories for the third year in a row. With only four seniors, The Terps relied heavily on underclassmen and saw several key breakthroughs.

In just the first meet of the season, a loss to NC State, sophomore Andrew Foran won the first individual event of his career, taking the 200-yard butterfly in Raleigh, N.C. Senior Mark Hill swept the sprint freestyle events.

The Terps notched their first victories of the season at home against Johns Hopkins (127-97) and Howard (163-38). Hill and senior diver Steve Vigilante led the way with two individual wins. Juniors Chris Brandenberger, Erik Weinberg and Mike Fried also added solo victories.

The men continued their winning ways three days later, defeating Duke 139-98 for their first ACC victory of the season. Hill and Vigilante again won both of their events, while Bradenberger, Weinberg and junior Brad Schertle tallied individual wins over the Blue Devils.

Despite a loss to ACC foe Georgia Tech, the Terps looked strong heading into the three-day Terrapin Cup Invitational after strong individual and relay performances. The Terps finished third in the nine-team invitational field. Hill won the 50- and 100-yard freestyle and Weinberg took the 100-yard backstroke. The 400-yard freestyle relay team also claimed a victory for the Terrapins.

After a two-month break from competition, in which several Terps competed at the U.S. Open in Federal Way, Wash., and the entire team trained at the Olympic Training Center in Colorado Springs, Colo., Maryland tallied a non-conference win over Villanova at Pittsburgh's Trees Pool. Weinberg and Hill again had the Terps' only individual victories.

Against No. 24 North Carolina, Hill swept the sprint freestyle events, while Weinberg took both backstrokes. Junior Gergo Szekely and the 400-yard freestyle relay team also picked up wins for the Terps, who fell at home, 181-116.

Despite a 4-8 overall record and 1-5 conference mark, the Terrapins were confident heading into the four-day ACC Championship meet in Charlottesville, Va. Maryland finished seventh with 283 points, while Hill and Brandenberger earned All-ACC honors for their top-three finishes in the 50-yard freestyle and 200-yard backstroke, respectively. Weinberg just missed out on an All-ACC nod, taking fourth in the 200-back.

In addition to those strong performances, head coach Jim Wenhold noted that freshmen Kevin Ford and Chris Tappis "really came into their own at ACC's and show excellent potential for the future." Ford was part of the school record-setting 200-yard freestyle relay team and finished in the top 16 in both sprint freestyle events. Tappis established three new career bests and placed ninth in the 200-yard freestyle.

"Strive for clarity, but accept and understand ambiguity."

That phrase captures one way in which an educated person approaches the world and its challenges. Students who graduate from the University of Maryland have been exposed to the tools that allow them to put that perspective to work. Imparting such a perspective may be an ambitious project for undergraduate education, but to aim for anything less would be unworthy of a great university's goals for its students. Thirteen years ago, Promises to Keep, a plan for undergraduate education at Maryland, articulated those goals so eloquently we repeat them here.

Undergraduate education at Maryland "aims to provide students with a sense of identity and purpose, a concern for others, a sense of responsibility for the quality of life around them, a continuing eagerness for knowledge and understanding, and a foundation for a lifetime of personal enrichment."

As we learn with and from one another, we try to "develop human values," "celebrate tolerance and fairness," "contribute to the social conscience," "monitor and assess private and collective assumptions," and "recognize the glory, tragedy and humor of the human condition." Your years at the University of Maryland can provide you with all the tools you need to accomplish these goals. Students here are "educated to be able to read with perception and pleasure, write and speak with clarity and verve, handle numbers and computation proficiently, reason mathematically, generate clear questions and find probable arguments, reach substantiated conclusions and accept ambiguity."

And we also hope you enjoy the journey.

University of Maryland

The University of Maryland

The Campus

By virtually every measure of quality, the University of Maryland has gained national recognition as one of the fastest-rising comprehensive research institutions in the country. The momentum of recent years has poised the university to move it into the top ranks of higher education and take leadership in shaping the research university of the 21st century.

The university has enjoyed a decade of momentum in all of the areas that affect quality. The average high school GPA of entering students has zoomed from 3.01 to nearly 3.90, and the average SATs are now more than 1270. The student body is a model of diversity, with minorities making up more than 32 percent of all students, and at least one graduate and undergraduate student from every state in the nation.

The university has 67 graduate and undergraduate programs ranked in the Top 25 by U.S. News and World Report, up from just one program in 1991.

Sponsored research and outreach has nearly tripled in the same 10-year period, exceeding $350 million last year. Private giving also has increased, and the university last year concluded its first campaign by topping its $350 million goal by more than $100 million. Alumni Association membership has been growing at an average rate of 10 percent a year since 1992.

One of the largest research universities in the United States, Fall 2002 enrollment was 25,240 undergraduate and 9,561 graduate students. There are 94 undergraduate programs, 89 master's programs, 70 doctoral programs and one first professional degree program. More than 100 centers and institutes are engaged in research and outreach.

Faculty at the University of Maryland, in all fields of knowledge, are engaged at the highest levels of national and international concern. The university's location near the center of federal policy-making and international political and economic activity enables it to play an active role in research and analysis of public policy.

Maryland is one of 30 public universities in the prestigious 63-member Association of American Universities and the only public institution in the Maryland-D.C. area with membership in the nation's most distinguished honor society, Phi Beta Kappa.

Did You Know?

In 1991, Maryland had one program listed among Top 25 entrants in the U.S. News & World Report Rankings. Maryland now has 67 programs ranked among the nation's elite, and the university is ranked 18th nationally among public universities.

A report card published in Technology Review rated the top U.S. universities in their quest for intellectual property, commercial partners and profits. Johns Hopkins University and the University of Maryland (28th) were the Mid-Atlantic (Delaware, Maryland, Virginia, District of Columbia) schools to make the "campus patenting" top 50 list.

Black Issues In Higher Education ranked the university fourth nationally in bachelor's degrees earned by African-American students at traditionally white schools. Maryland ranks first in African-American undergraduate degrees in social sciences and history.

The Wall Street Journal ranked the Robert H. Smith School of Business No. 16 among the world's business schools. Maryland is the top-ranked school in the Mid-Atlantic region (Delaware, Maryland, District of Columbia, Virginia). The Financial Times of London ranked the Robert H. Smith School of Business No. 8 in information technology, No. 6 in faculty research and No. 7 in entrepreneurship.

In the only undergraduate program rankings released by U.S. News & World Report–business and engineering–both the Robert H. Smith School of Business (No. 18) and A. James Clark School of Engineering (No. 24) were ranked among the top 25. The university also ranked in the top 25 for its learning communities (3rd), first-year experience (12th) and service learning programs (24th).

Dr. C.D. Mote

University President
California '59
Seventh Year

As the 19th president of the University of Maryland, C. D. "Dan" Mote Jr. has presided since 1998 over a university that is claiming a well-earned position in the top echelon of research universities in the nation. An internationally-respected researcher and member of the National Academy of Engineering, Dr. Mote is Glenn L. Martin Institute Professor of Engineering. He serves on the Technology Council of Maryland, is co-chair of the Potomac Conference of the Greater Washington Board of Trade and heads its Technology Transfer Committee.

Under President Mote's leadership, Maryland has received national and international notice for innovative undergraduate education opportunities, high-impact research and academic programs, outstanding performing arts, and athletes and athletic teams competitive with the best in the nation.

"The future of the state depends on this university," says Mote. "It is the State of Maryland's most important asset." As president, Dan Mote has been determined to make that asset even greater by nourishing a culture of excellence and civility across the campus, strengthening the university's connections with its various stakeholders, building partnerships with State and national corporations and federal agencies and achieving distinction as an institution where discovery takes place every day and everywhere. The university's progress can be seen in all areas, from its nationally-ranked programs to its success in building external partnerships to its state-of-the-art facilities.

Quality Programs

Over the past decade, the quality of Maryland's programs and reputation has climbed steadily. In 2003, the University of Maryland moved up to 17th place among public universities in U.S. News & World Report rankings, up from 30th in 1998. We currently have 44 graduate and undergraduate programs and units ranked in the top 15 by U.S. News & World Report, up from 5 in 1995.

While our academic successes have spread across the board, the university has emerged as a true powerhouse in business, computer science, earth sciences, engineering, environmental policy, education and journalism. Maryland is one of only 10 public and private universities that have their programs in computer science, mathematics, physics, and engineering each ranked in the top 20. Our College of Education is ranked in the top 20 nationally and 5 of its programs are in the top 10.

Athletic Excellence

Mote sees athletics as an integral part of the university experience. Indeed athletic success more often than not reflects academic success, he notes. For example, all four of the teams that played in the 2002 NCAA basketball Final Four, including Maryland, are members of the prestigious Association of American Universities, the organization that comprises the leading research and academic universities in North America. "That's no accident," Mote says. "Institutions that are committed to excellence tend to be excellent in every endeavor. Our successes in football, basketball, lacrosse and other sports reflects our culture of quality as much as our successes in engineering, business, education and journalism."

Deborah A. Yow

Athletics Director
11th Year at Maryland

Deborah A. Yow is in the 11th year of her outstanding tenure as director of athletics at the University of Maryland, a tenure that has seen unprecedented success and achievement in Maryland athletics. Each year has brought about steady and continued improvement. In Yow's 10 years at Maryland, the Terrapins have won a remarkable nine NCAA national championships and graduated its student-athletes at an enviable rate as Maryland athletics has soared to sustained new heights.

The comprehensive success of Terrapin athletics under Debbie Yow's leadership is a clear and compelling testimony of her values of excellence, teamwork and accountability.

Likewise, her election to the presidency of the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics three years ago is an indication of the wide respect with which she is regarded among its 6,100 members representing 1,600 colleges in the U.S. and Canada. She was singled out by Street and Smith Sports Business Journal as one of the leading administrators in the U.S. and she received the Carl Maddox Sport Management Award presented by the United States Sports Academy for excellence in athletics administration. Yow was selected to serve on the U.S. Department of Education's Commission on Opportunities in Athletics to review the status of Federal Title IX regulations. She has served as the chair of the Atlantic Coast Conference Committee on Television for 2003 through 2004. The committee, comprised of the ACC's athletics directors, is charged with overseeing the league's TV contracts and dealing with issues related to television. Yow led the committee during the recent, very successful renegotiation of comprehensive, multiyear ACC football and basketball contracts with ABC, ESPN, ESPN2 and syndication entities. Additionally, she has represented intercollegiate athletics with presentations in a number of prominent settings such as the Harvard University School of Law conference on "Shaping the Future of Collegiate Athletics" and the Street and Smith Sports Business Journal national forum on the direction of intercollegiate athletics. She was also recently inducted into the State of Maryland Women's Hall of Fame.

Yow, who has served on the NCAA Management Council and the NCAA Division I Budget Committee, is a strong and steady voice on behalf of intercollegiate athletics in America.

Since taking over as AD at Maryland in 1994, she and her staff have:

- Transformed Terrapin athletics into a responsive, goal-oriented organization.
- Balanced all 10 of the department's annual budgets (the first balanced budgets in the 10 years prior to her arrival). The budget has now reached $42 million annually and the sizable prior accumulated operating debt has been eradicated.
- Greatly enhanced the academic support services provided for student-athletes, with an enviable exhausted eligibility graduation rate of approximately 85 percent for student athletes at Maryland
- Led the Terrapins to a national all-sports ranking in the top six percent of all NCAA Division I institutions.
- Significantly expanded marketing and fund-raising efforts on behalf of Terrapin athletics. As a result, private gifts to athletics have increased over 350 percent and corporate sponsorship revenues have increased by over 300 percent during her tenure at Maryland.
- Continued to dramatically improve venues and facilities for the department's 27 teams.
- Implemented a strategic management model.
- Developed a comprehensive Internet strategy with management, marketing and fund-raising applications.
- Significantly improved customer care in every area of Maryland athletics.

The most recent achievements of Maryland athletics are exceptional:

- Selected by U.S. News & World Report as one of the Top 20 athletic programs in the nation (for overall quality and competitive excellence).
- In football, won the 2002 Atlantic Coast Conference championship and played in the 2002 Orange Bowl, followed this with an 11-win season and a 30-3 victory over the University of Tennessee in the Peach Bowl, followed by a 10-win season and a 41-7 win over West Virginia in the Gator Bowl on New Year's Day 2004. Maryland is one of only five NCAA Division I football teams to have won 10 or more games in the each of the past three seasons.
- In men's basketball, the Terps won the Atlantic Coast Conference over Duke in the Championship Game in 2004 and won the NCAA National Championship in 2002.
- In 2003-04, 12 Maryland teams competed in NCAA postseason play. This placed Maryland in the Top 25 programs in the nation in the prestigious USSA Directors Cup rankings.
- Additionally, Maryland is one of only six universities to win a National Championship in both basketball and football (UCLA, Michigan, Michigan State, Syracuse, Ohio State and Maryland).
- Hired the Associated Press National Coach of the Year, Brenda Frese, as the new women's basketball coach. In her second season at the helm, in 2003-04, her team drew 13,250 to a regular-season game and advanced to the NCAA Tournament.
- Hired Dave Cottle, the third-winningest active men's lacrosse coach in the U.S., who guided his team to the NCAA Final Four in his second year.
- Field Hockey played for the National Championship in 2001 and continues to be a Final Four team.
- Women's Lacrosse has continued its winning ways and has won seven consecutive national championships through 2001 with additional Final Four appearances.
- Enhancing football facilities significantly with team house, stadium and practice field upgrades.
- Moved into the new $125 million Comcast Center, housing athletic department offices and seating for 18,000 fans for basketball and other events.
- The productivity, morale, and the competitive and academic achievement of Terrapin athletics are exceptional and continue to gain momentum.

Regarding the many achievements of Terrapin athletics over the past 10 years, Yow says, "We are pleased, but we are not satisfied... our vision is to be one of the top 10 programs in the nation consistently... we see no reason to settle for less."

Yow is known for her goal-oriented and proactive management style. She consistently inspires and challenges those around her to "raise our sights and sharpen our tools... to work hard and work smart...to recognize that our only limitations are those that we place upon ourselves."

Academic Support & Career Development

The University of Maryland is committed to providing the highest quality education to all of its students. The Department of Intercollegiate Athletics strives to provide student-athletes excellent opportunities to participate in an intercollegiate athletics program of the highest quality, with the result that their athletics participation becomes an integral and valued component of their total educational experience at the university.

Terrapin student-athletes will find that the same hard work and discipline that has earned them success in athletics competition is also required in the classroom. Balancing the significant time demands and responsibilities required to be a successful student-athlete at the highest collegiate level is no small task. Therefore, as a result of their commitment to representing the university through athletics, Terrapin student-athletes are able to utilize support programs designed to meet their specific needs.

Led by assistant athletics director Anton Goff, the mission of the Academic Support and Career Development Unit (ASCDU) is to provide quality developmental programs and services that will enhance academic progress, encourage development, and foster the overall growth and maturation of every student-athletes.

The Gossett Academic Support and Career Development Center for Terrapin student-athletes, named for long-time Terp supporters Barry and Mary Gossett, is located in the Comcast Center. It features a study center that includes 25 desktop computers, a tutoring center, a classroom, a CHAMPS/Life Skills resource room and individual offices for six professional academic counselors, a director of ILP programs, an assistant program coordinator and two graduate assistants. In addition, a new academic wing was added to the Gossett football team house last Fall. It features offices for two counselors, three learning specialist, and a graduate assistant; as well as a quiet study area, 29-desk computer lab, classroom, tutor rooms and classroom/lab for the individualized learning program.

Academic courses, programs and services offered by ASCDU include the following:

- Student-athlete orientation
- Academic counseling
- NCAA academic eligibility monitoring
- Academic enrichment and career development presentations and workshops
- Accredited tutorial support
- Individualized learning program
- EDCP 108-K (College learning strategies and skills)
- EDCP 108-M (Math learning strategies and skills)
- UNIV 100 (First-year transitions to the university)

Maryland Gameplan

The Maryland Gameplan is intended to assist graduating Terrapin student-athletes as they begin the job search process. It is distributed to more than 500 corporations and businesses across the country, in addition to being featured on the M Club website. Prospective employers are introduced to our graduating student-athletes with resume information relative to academic, career and personal achievements. The Maryland Gameplan directory is produced annually in collaboration with the M Club.

Career Networking Night

Because career development is an ongoing process, ASCDU provides a variety of programs for student-athletes throughout the year. Professional assistance with resume- writing, interviewing skills, graduate school search and job search is readily available to all student-athletes. During the spring semester ASCDU hosts the Career Networking Night, where student-athletes can learn about career interests and career planning. Unlike typical "job fairs," the purpose of this program is to allow student-athletes to explore multiple career opportunities by speaking directly to individuals in their chosen areas of interest. Employers at the Career Networking Night recognize the marketable qualities student-athletes have gained through athletic participation. Student-athletes learn about opportunities for internships and full-time jobs.

Student-Athlete Advisory Council

The Student-Athlete Advisory Council (S.A.A.C.) plays an important role in the Department of Intercollegiate Athletics. It consists of two representatives from each varsity sport and meets on a regular basis with representatives from the athletic administration. The S.A.A.C. mission is to enhance the total student-athlete experience by developing leadership skills, promoting student-athlete welfare and fostering a positive student-athlete image on the Maryland campus, local area and nationally.

CHAMPS/Life Skills Programs

ASCDU houses the NCAA's (National Collegiate Athletic Association) Challenging Athletes' Minds for Personal Success (C.H.A.M.P.S.) Life Skills Program. The ASCDU staff, in collaboration with various other Department of Intercollegiate Athletics' units and campus resources, strives to provide a systematic personal development program designed to reach each student-athlete based on his or her individual needs. The focus of the program is on the individual academically, athletically and emotionally, and on the changing needs and skills of that individual in the years during college and after graduation. The menu of presentations, workshops and seminars is a comprehensive and balanced system of "life learning" programs promoted for use by each varsity sport team.

Highlights of the CHAMPS/Life Skills Programs:

- Support efforts of every student-athlete toward intellectual development and graduation
- Use athletics as preparation for success in life
- Meet the changing needs of student-athletes
- Promote respect for diversity among student-athletes
- Enhance interpersonal relationships in the lives of student-athletes
- Assist student-athletes in building positive self-esteem
- Enable student-athletes to make meaningful contributions to their communities
- Promote ownership by the student-athletes of their academic, athletic, personal and social responsibilities
- Enhance partnerships between the NCAA, member institutions and their communities for the purpose of education
- Encourage the development of leadership skills

Strength & Conditioning

Collegiate swimming and divign has evolved to the point where total physical preparation is necessary to successfully compete on the Division I level. It has become extremely important to strength and conditioning coach Corliss White that all of the Terrapin athletes are prepared through training to maximize their athletic development in terms of strength and conditioning. The high level of dedication by the members of the swimming and diving teams have brought about spectacular achievements in the weight room and in competition.

The objective of the strength and conditioning program for soccer is based on the enhancement of performance as well as the prevention of injuries. White makes every attempt to accommodate the different training needs of each individual athlete.

The preparation of a student-athlete to compete in swimming and diving goes beyond strength and power training in the weight room. Speed improvement, flexibility, plyometrics, nutrition, agility and conditioning are also important ingredients in the preparation of the swimming and diving teams here at Maryland. The strength and conditioning staff puts a great emphasis on improving the quickness of the Terps through increased mechanical efficiency and the improvement of acceleration of maximum velocity.

Campus Recreation Center Natatorium

Opened on Jan. 31, 1998, the Campus Recreation Center Natatorium at the University of Maryland is one of the premier swimming and diving venues in the country. Featured in such national publications as Swimming Technique and International Aquatics magazines, the Campus Recreation Center Natatorium not only benefits the Maryland swimming and diving teams, but also the University of Maryland community itself.

The Campus Recreation Center Natatorium was part of the $40 million Campus Recreation Center. It features one 50x25-yard pool with two movable bulkheads and an underwater sound system. There are two one-meter diving boards and two three-meter diving platforms. The natatorium pool holds more than 1.5 million gallons of water.

With seating for more than 1,000 spectators, the Campus Recreation Center Natatorium has and will play host to such national and regional events as the 1999 and 2002 ACC Championships and the YMCA Nationals in the summer of 1999, 2000, 2001, 2002, 2003 and 2004. The 1999 and 2000 FINA World Cups were held at the Campus Recreation Center Natatorium, making it the focus of national and international attention during the championships. The facility also hosted the 2003 USA Swimming Summer Long Course National Championships.

In addition to the natatorium, the Campus Recreation Center also has fitness and weight-lifting equipment, indoor basketball and volleyball courts, and an indoor track. A large outdoor pool complements the Campus Recreation Center and Natatorium, finishing a facility that is one of a kind and can only be found at the University of Maryland.

Media Information

Media Guidelines

Credentials: Media and photographer credentials for events at Maryland's Campus Recreation Natatorium Center may be obtained by working press, radio and television by writing or calling Jessica Bernheim in the Maryland Athletic Media Relations Office, 2725 Comcast Center, College Park, MD 20741-0295. All requests should be submitted at least 48 hours prior to the event by phoning the Media Relations Office at (301) 314-1483. Since space is limited, accommodations are on a priority basis: daily newspapers and wire services, originating radio and television stations, national weekly or monthly publications, electronic media outlets, local and regional television crews. Priority is granted to members of the media who cover Maryland athletics on a regular basis, and to visiting media members. Photo passes will be issued only to accredited photographers on assignment.

Services: The Media Relations Office will provide complete statistics at the conclusion of every home meet. Programs containing rosters and event notes on each team will be provided for the working media.

Fax Machine: The Media Relations Office has one facsimile machine, located in Room 2725 of Comcast Center, which is available upon request. The fax number is (301) 314-9094.

Terps on the Web: For up-to-date game stories, statistics, schedules and results, and other Maryland athletic department information, please locate www.umterps.com on the Internet.

Troy Tucker

Assoc. Athletic Director/Admin.
First Year at Maryland
Geneseo '91

Troy Tucker is in his first year at Maryland as an Associate Athletics Director after spending the last five years as a Director of Athletics at Herkimer County Community College.

During his tenure at Herkimer from 1999-2004, Tucker operated the 21-sport, nationally competitive program with a balanced budget. He also oversaw the renovations of nine different facilities. Under Tucker's direction, Herkimer earned three-consecutive top-10 finishes in the Region III Director's Cup and finished 2003-04 ranked fifth among junior college athletic programs in the nation by NATYCAA Pepsi Cup. Three teams won five NJCAA National Championships and four won 13 regional titles. His teams also earned eight NJCAA Academic Team of the Year awards with the women's swimming & diving squad garnering the honor three times.

Prior to his tenure at Herkimer, Tucker was the Director of Athletics at D'Youville College in Buffalo, N.Y., from 1996-99. While there, he headed the expansion of the athletics program from three to 11 teams and was named National Athletic Director of the Year in 1998. At his arrival, Tucker oversaw the department's move to NCAA Division III status.

While serving as Director of Athletics at Herkimer, Tucker was also the head men's basketball coach for four seasons before becoming an Associate Dean in his final year. During the 2000-01 campaign, he was named Coach of the Year after his squad qualified for the Region III Championship for the first time in seven years, winning its first-round game.

A native of Scio, N.Y., Tucker began his collegiate career as an administrator at Jamestown-Olean Community College where he served from 1992-96. During his time there, he helped initiate the college's athletic programs and was also the Jaguars' head men's basketball coach for a year.

Tucker is a 1991 graduate of Geneseo where he earned a bachelor of science in business. In 1992, he earned his master's from Springfield in athletics administration. Tucker and his wife, Rhonda, have a son, Griffin, and a daughter, Haley.
